ABSTRACT

This directory compiles state and local information about New York State IT (Information Technology) organizations, their leadership, and staff, in order to facilitate communications that can leverage the experiences of others and better enable pursuance of collaborative efforts to improve the return on the public's investment in New York's information management infrastructure and operations. As an initial effort, it does not represent all of New York's government IT organizations. Particular emphasis was placed on collecting information at the state and county levels, where experience and scale might be of value to other seeking solutions. The directory is organized into sections for state, county, and municipality organizations. Each entry includes address, phone/fax numbers, Web site, staff size, and individual department contact names, e-mail addresses, and phone numbers. (MES)
